Comments

“ I met Gini years ago when we met working together for The Orthopedic Group, later became Orthopedic Physicians Of Colorado.
We remained close friends since and continued to talk as she moved to Nebraska then Wisconsin.
We shared our ups and downs and we both believed in our Lord and always prayed together.
When Gini got sick , I was always there listening to her fears and doing anything I could to help her feel less anxious , through her procedures etc.
I told her no matter what, she would earn her angel wings with God for she was a special woman who God loved as all her family did too and her friends.
Her personality was contagious and her smile could brighten an entire room.
I miss you so much Gini but know you are around us all watching .
Till we meet again someday my wonderful friend. Love you
