“ Amy was such a sweet lady, and loved by us all. Phil has a long and bumpy road ahead, and we are with you always Phil. You and Amy were more than friends to me, you were family. I prayed the whole time Amy was going through her ordeal with that vicious disease, At her passing I cried, and do so now. A great lady, and yes she will be missed.

“ And another light shines on in the night sky above. Frances and I were just talking about Amy and Angie and her shopping in Branson. I remember her charitable heart stepping in to help me with raffle tickets. Always quick to smile and tolerate a sailors rough humor. We will miss you, Amy. I'll remember you each time "Amy" is on the radio.

“ We came to know Amy thru the annual Asia Sailor Westpac's Association Reunions that she attended with Phil. Amy was always the brightness in the room. Her infectious personality, out going manner and genuine care for others made her an easy person to come to know and love. Cannot ever remember a time while around Amy that she wasn't smiling or laughing. Our sincerest condolences go out to Phil and the rest of the family. To say that Amy will be missed is just not good enough; but, that's all the words we have as we grieve the passing of this genuinely loving and caring Soul.
