“ My favorite memory of my cousin, David is his sense of humor. David was a fun playmate when we were kids and I would visit with my parents. One time when we were teenagers, my parents got a phonecall, and it was David, and he took a date to Madison, where we live, and his car broke down, and he and his date needed a place to stay overnight and help finding a repair garage and a ride towing his car to the garage. His date and I had an impromptu slumber party, and the next day my dad towed his car to the Texaco where we had our own cars serviced. There was a golf course and a walk path next to the golf course. David and his date and I took a walk on that path while we were waiting for his car to be fixed. It was a lot of fun. They were both real funny. The years passed and I finally got reunited with my King cousins on Facebook. There was a brief era in which David would hold court on his Facebook page and the cousins and I would get together at dinner time and type on David's Facebook page. David's political jokes were perfectly timed and SO funny!! I was writing a Facebook tribute to my mom the night she passed away. My Dad, David's uncle had already passed away. David wrote a comment about the tribute saying, "I'll never forget when Aunt Pat and Uncle Gene helped me when I was stranded in Madison" That was the last time I "saw" him.

“ Where do I start? Dave and I grew up on the same block, playing in the vacant lot on the corner between us. His mom and dad were family friends, as well as Chuck being one of my teachers. His wife Bev was a friend and classmate long before they were married. Bev's parents were also good friends. Dave and Bev shared many adventures with me and my first wife. Bless you old friend.
