“ I was heartbroken to learn of Eric's passing. I had the honor of being Eric's teacher during his middle and high school years. I hope he learned some things from me over those years. I know I learned from him. He knew what was really important in life; kindness to everyone, a joyful outlook and the ability to completely enjoy the many everyday blessings that came his way. The way he lived his life was a window into his heart. And anyone who knew Eric knew that his heart was huge!! Sending my deepest and heartfelt sympathy to you Aileen and Bob.
