“ Jill was a wonderful Christian lady. We first got to know Jill when we were looking for a group home that our son David could move into. David has Down syndrome and was ready to fly out of the nest. This was going to be a test to see if David would want to live in a group home or not. How fortunate for David that Jill would be there as his new friend and caregiver. He was privileged to have her as a resident manager when he lived in the group home on Forest Ave. He loved being with her each day she was there. She treated him and the other two residents as her own sons. She took them on many outings, even her own family's home, had parties for them, and gave them both freedom and responsibilities according to their abilities. She even took him to church with her when we could not take him. Even after she was no longer his staff, they shared many wonderful outings together. But, he is happy for her since she will be with her mom, who also was a large part of David's life, and her Lord Jesus, whom she loved.

David asked me to share that he loved her very much and will miss her very much. We, his parents, are very grateful for the years that Jill gave her love and care to him.

Our condolences to all her large family and her own children. May you rest in peace, Jill.

“ Jill was my best friend for many years. I remember going to her family home often where they served ice cream a lot. That was special for me. I think we did everything together. I am sorry we lost contact with each other these last years. She is in a better place, but I would have loved to connect with her again first. Hi Vivian. You were a special part of my life too!
