“ Bob was one of my favorite professors at UWO. Students used to think I was trying to get brownie points when I'd walk into his class and put a cookie under his podium (he wasn't even my teacher at that point). I came into class one day, after they came back from trip to Iowa, to find a can of grape KneeHi on my desk. My prof didn't know anything about it but that can stayed with me for years afterward proudly displayed. He was a great friend

“ Bob and I first met in the 1964-65 academic year at UW Milwaukee and for many years taught together in the Geography Department at UW Oshkosh. I treasured Bob as a best friend and a professional colleague.
